Campuscafe, a division of Smurti Corp., sponsored the 2013 MDA Muscle Walk of Atlanta by providing 2,000 Blimpie sandwiches, chips, and water bottles to participants. MDA is the nation's largest voluntary health agency dedicated to funding neuromuscular disease research, health care services and education. MDA supports cutting edge neuromuscular disease research; ensures that all Americans affected by these diseases receive treatment and critical care; and serves as a voice for families with neuromuscular disease. MDA has helped reshape public understanding of the extraordinary accomplishments made by people with disabilities. MDA's advocacy program provides a way for the million Americans affected by neuromuscular diseases to make their voices heard regarding issues that directly affect their lives.
